

WAS SPANISH A MOODY MAY DEFEND THE VICTIM OF TRAMPS?

Found Lying Near Extinct Camp Fire Near Lamy, Horribly Burned.

Tetanus or lockjaw, is attributed as the immediate cause of the death of L. C. Spanish, the young man who was found terribly burned and in an unconscious condition at Lamy and who succumbed to his injuries at St. Vincent's hospital in Santa Fe. The remains were shipped by express for burial at the old home of the deceased in Greenwood, Delaware.

Mr. Spanish when found was lying in proximity to the coal chute at Lamy. He was frightfully burned about the eyes and mouth and both of his legs were also badly burned. How he came to be injured will probably never be known but the supposition is that he was beating his way on a freight train and was thrown off by tramps after being assaulted and robbed. He probably fell into the members of a camp fire and thus sustained the severe burns. This theory is borne out by the fact that he was lying close to the chimneys of an extinct fire when found.

This was on the morning of October 26. The young man was taken to Santa Fe on the first train and placed in St. Vincent's hospital. It was thought at the time that he could survive only a few hours but he appeared to be recovering when lockjaw developed and resulted in his death Wednesday.

This identity was revealed by a book which was found in his coat pocket bearing the name of L. C. Spanish, Greenwood, Delaware, and certifying that he was a member of the Bearers of the Cross, Improved Order of Red Men, E. McGrover, of Las Vegas, Great Chief of Records of the order in New Mexico, was notified of the circumstances, and at once communicated with the young man's father, and gave instructions to have everything possible done for the victim.

Although a telegram was sent to him immediately and which he received promptly J. S. Spanish, the father of the unfortunate young man, did not learn of his son's accident until several days later. Mr. McGrover sent the message in the telegraphic code of the order to the secretary of the tribe at Greenwood, who by a coincidence happened to be the young man's father, but the latter could not find his code book, and forwarded the dispatch by mail to the Great Chief of Records of the state at Wilmington.

He was shocked when he received the reply stating that his son had been injured and would probably die within six hours after the telegram was sent.

A FORMER FLAGSTAFF CITIZEN HELD UP

Frank L. Best, Jr., a former well known resident of Flagstaff, who is now driving a stage in Nevada, was held up at Round Mountain, one day last week, by a lone highwayman. The robber relieved Frank of all the cash he had on his person, after which he secured a large amount of cash and coins from the stage. United States mail was overlooked by the highwayman.

DR. PEEBLES COMMITTED SUICIDE IN MEXICO

Many friends of the unfortunate Dr. P. Peebles, residing in Las Vegas and elsewhere, will learn with regret that the physician committed suicide in Mexico some months ago. After leaving Las Vegas he and his wife joined the Salvation Army, a step taken after the death of their son by accident and their daughter from neural causes.

Judge Pope's charge to the grand jury empaneled at the present term of the district court at Roswell was very complete and emphatic, covering the subjects of vagrancy, speculating in evidences of public indebtedness by county, municipal or court officials, gambling, proper handling of monies collected for educational purposes, compulsory education, unlawful use of deadly weapons, sale of intoxicants or tobacco to minors and the proper observance of the Sabbath.

ATTEMPT TO KILL ARIZONA MAN FAILED

Details of what appears to have been a deliberate attempt to assassinate John Cicereilli, watchman at the Esmeralda mine, in the Ash Creek section, on the evening of October 14, were made public last evening, when Cicereilli, in company with a party of hunters, who have spent the past week hunting in that district, returned to this city, says the Prescott Journal Miner.

He stated that on Sunday evening, a week ago, about dusk, he was aroused by the violent barking of his faithful watch dog. He opened the door of his residence to ascertain the cause, and fell to the floor with a bullet wound in his left thigh. The mysterious part

W. H. MOODY.

Washington, D. C. Oct. 27.—It is definitely determined that Attorney General Wm. H. Moody is to leave the president's cabinet January 1st. So President Roosevelt has told friends, and Moody is also confirming it to his friends.

The attorney general is to become a member of a law firm in Boston which is now carrying his name upon its stationary and office door. Some people have thought it strange that Mr. Moody should have his name officially associated with a firm in a private practice while serving as chief law officer of the government.

It is explained that this connection was made while Mr. Moody was still secretary of the navy. Mr. Moody did not think it worth while to withdraw his name when he became attorney general and it is stated for him that he has taken no part in the business of the Boston law firm since he was attorney general.

Mr. Moody does not hesitate to say that he expects in the future to employ freely the knowledge of federal practice which his public duties has given him. He expects within the next few years to make a large amount in the practice of law.

Whether Attorney General Moody will be found in future appearing as counsel for trusts, which some other attorney general is prosecuting, is a question which he does not feel called upon to discuss.

of the attack is that Mr. Cicereilli failed to hear any report of a gun, and also that so far as he knows he has not an enemy in the world who would desire his death to the extent of committing murder.

Fortunately, the bullet passed through the fleshy part of his thigh, making only a flesh wound. It struck the opposite wall of his residence, passing through the partition and continuing on its course, showing that it had too much force to be merely a stray bullet.

A deputy sheriff visited the scene of the attempted assassination, but was unable to secure any clue that would lead to the apprehension of the perpetrator of the outrage.

EX-GOVERNOR OTERO SHIPPING LAMBS

Ex-Governor M. A. Otero and Hon. J. W. Reynolds left Santa Fe for Toronto to superintend the delivery of 5,000 lambs to the Sylvester Brothers, of Monte Vista, Colorado. These lambs will be shipped to the feeding grounds of the Sylvester Brothers in the San Luis valley. They were contracted this spring to L. A. Hughes of Santa Fe by the Salado Live Stock company. Mr. Hughes has sold them to the Sylvester Brothers. The lambs are in pink of condition and will average seventy pounds per head.

A SANTA FE PRINTER KILLED IN A WRECK

It now develops that R. Hazlet, recently killed in a railway accident at Maricopa, Texas, was Robert Hazlet Bowler, for many years foreman of the news room of the New Mexican Printing company, and who left Santa Fe in July of this year on account of financial embarrassments brought on by gambling, says the New Mexican. He first went to El Paso, Texas, then to Juarez and Chihuahua, Mexico, and thence to Marshall, Texas, where he was employed in a printing office, assuming his Christian name as his full name. In his effects were found receipts and papers which seem to establish his identity fully. He was buried at Sherman at the expense of the printers' union of which he was a member.

PHOENIX TO VOTE OUT THE GAMBLERS

The citizens of Phoenix will soon have an opportunity to vote on the gambling question. It is announced that the city council will shortly call a special election for the purpose of allowing the voters to decide the question.

The question was brought up and made an issue during the city campaign two years ago and is the hottest contest ever waged in Phoenix the ticket backed by the anti-gambling element went down to defeat by heavy majorities but the anti have all along contended that it was not a fair test as many people did not consider the question of gambling but the personnel of the tickets and it was also charged that some illegal voting was done.

An Awful Cough Cured.

"Two years ago our little girl had a touch of pneumonia, which left her with an awful cough. She had spells of coughing, just like one with the whooping cough and some thought she would not get well at all. We got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. She stopped coughing and got stout and fat," writes Mrs. Ora Busard, Brubaker, Ill. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

THE ME LIGHT OF TRUTH

A desperate effort is being made in Albuquerque to discredit the regular republican county organization. The leaders of an opposition ticket are making a house to house canvass for support. They are telling you that they stand for reform in county government; for the destroying of bossism; for clean politics; that if elected they will save the county thousands of dollars annually over previous years; that they are impelled by motives of patriotism, self protection and superior qualifications that the regular republican ticket is composed of a gang of grafters, imbeciles and political tricksters.

Let us scan briefly the pages in the history of this organization which is asking you, MR. VOTER, TO CAST YOUR BALLOT AGAINST THE REPUBLICAN PARTY AND REPUBLICAN PRINCIPLES.

Three years ago the Morning Journal, then the Journal-Democrat, was not receiving what it regarded a lion's share of the county printing. It was decided "to bring the county officers to time." This decision was followed by a few "hot shots" from the Journal-Democrat, aimed at Frank A. and Thos. S. Hubbell, then treasurer and sheriff respectively. The hot shots were ignored, and the Journal-Democrat saw more good county printing going to other shops. In a frenzy rage it denounced Frank A. Hubbell, chairman of the county central committee. Again the longed for "salve of lucre" was not applied, and then began the Journal's "war to the finish. Anything to beat Hubbell. That was the beginning, there is your motive, Mr. Voter, as you may already know if you were in touch with political affairs at that time. The Journal-Democrat was "in it" made little effort at that time to conceal the real aim of its preliminary attacks on the Hubbells. It finally hauled down the red flag of piracy from its masthead, and nailed its present transparent banner of gauze—Reform. Purity. Integrity. It gradually gained a string following of democrats and disgruntled republican bolters. When Governor Otero, for personal political reasons, exercised his power to remove the Hubbells from office, the Journal crowed long and loud over the fact and its special friends, well informed people smiled. Everyone of them knew that the Journal's agitation had no more to do with the governor's action than had reform motives to do with the Journal. It was the governor's idea of a strategic move on the rearward front.

With neither of its old county printing enemies in office, the Journal began its crusade to keep them out—"keep the Hubbells from getting back in office and we may again have a friend who will treat us right." So he came down to the present campaign with the Journal's usual non-descript coterie to "do anything to beat Hubbell."

Before the September primaries the straws in the wind showed unmistakably that the Journal's agitation and the governor's precipitate action had earned little respect from the voters. With the Journal's agitation, the file of the republicans in the county. Long before the primaries the present people's ticket was conceived. Superintendent of Instruction Stroup worked diligently for weeks in the city with Perfecto Armijo and Jesus Romero in the rural precincts. When the primaries showed overwhelmingly the weakness of the bolting faction, the carefully prepared cry of "fraud! Packed primaries! Illegal voting!" was promulgated loud and long. Did you believe that, reader? We hardly believe so. If the Journal's claims that the republicans of other precincts had been imported to change the status of the delegations had been true, you know the matter would have been settled only in the courts. That claim cannot and did not stand with thinking people. Left out in the cold and discredited by the party, the carefully prepared ticket was nominated a few days after the primaries, modified only by the admission of one democratic candidate in the hope of swinging the democratic vote. Only one thing was overlooked in the carefully prepared plans; the meeting was held in a hot air bag of reform—then a ticket was concluded necessary and announced.

That is its history—the record of self-interest, disgruntled blackmail; of cheap, gaudy office hunting. Now, as to its claims.

These men tell you they will save the county thousands of dollars; that they stand for reform in county government. Do they? Five of them have been in office eight months and THE COUNTY'S EXPENSES UNDER THEIR ADMINISTRATION HAVE BEEN MORE THAN EVER BEFORE.

They tell you they are destroying bossism. Are they? The dearest pride of Perfecto Armijo and Jesus Romero is the machine they ARE BRAGGING that they are building among the native people. These men are opposing the regular republican ticket in the very hope that they may profit by any disruption and BUILD THEIR OWN MACHINE.

They tell you they are impelled by motives of patriotism and self-protection. Does this claim ring true? Five of these men, now in office want their jobs back—patriotism and self-protection in a nut shell.

They discourse earnestly about superior qualifications, and tell you the regular republican ticket is a gang of grafters and tricksters. Do you believe this? Is there any comparison between the qualifications of J. F. Sulzer and Hon. W. B. Childers as candidates for the council? Can the record of Bernard Rappe be compared with that of George A. Kaseman as a fitness for representative. Does A. B. Stroup's record in local school affairs measure up to that of Principal of the high school Miller? Does a long controlled democratic meet your ideal of the man with whom to entrust the county funds against the Journal-endorsed record of C. E. Newcomer.

Do you believe from your knowledge of the candidates on the regular republican ticket that they are a gang of grafters and tricksters?

Can you compare the candidates on these two tickets, man for man, and arrive at a decision favorable to the people's ticket—a decision that will justify you in deserting the republican ticket in the territory at time when the interests of the territory depend so largely upon a republican majority?

Can you consistently lend your aid to building up a political machine in the county—a machine which acknowledges allegiance to no party and no principles beyond selfish interest?

After you have listened to the superlative claims of the leader of the people's ticket, turn on the lame light of honest investigation; learn for yourself whether this ticket is entitled to your support. Behind the dashed trappings you will find the truth. The more thorough your investigation, the more ardent will be your support of the republican party and republican principles.

FRANCE STILL VEXED BY CHURCH AND STATE ROW

Paris, Oct. 27.—The greater portion of the session of Parliament which has opened here will be devoted to the vexed church and state questions. The Catholic organs have intimated strongly that the Pope is now satisfied with the decree of the council of state that the government will not recognize the taking over of church property by any association not in common with the regular bishop and hierarchy at Rome. The government, however, shows no disposition to accept a compromise which would make Rome and not France the arbiter of the regularity of associations under the law.

Guggenheim, mine owners, New York, have completed the negotiations for the purchase of, and formally took over, a mining property known as Hunker Creek on the Yukon extending eight miles towards the Klondike river. This city will take the place of the Yukon with the control also of practically all the water power in that section.

BALLAD OF REFORM

(With apologies to Stuart Maclean, and as sung by the Morning Journal Duet Club.)

Sing a ballad of reform;
Everything must better be;
Dairy sausage from the farm
Now just what it claims to be;
Each insurance company
Worthy of congratulation;
Everything from sea to sea
With its little reformation!

Sing a ballad of reform;
Every voter now must see
Office grabbing is the thing
Which most needs reformed to be.
How can reformation work
When we are out and they are in?
'Twon't be worth a burro quirt
Unless we handle all the tin.

Sing a ballad of reform;
Cry the Hubbells down to death;
Praise Perfecto and Jesus
With each strongly smelling breath.
But we know upon the sly
Why we burn with indignation;
We must have those offices,
So we cry for reformation.

(Chorus by the "fall" Journal Force.)
Ah, well! here's to great reform;
Let it spread from sea to sea;
Only—here it loses charm—
Everything's reformed but me!
